Windshield Wiper Program

Covers the latest models including Tesla, Mercedes and BMW

Windshield curvatures and aerodynamics have become increasingly complex over the years. Wiper blades need to bridge the contact gap between the wiping edge and the windshield for maximum wiping performance.

- 1 ClearMax 365™, an exclusive, patented rubber technology combines a soft rubber core with a powder-coated shell.
 - Protects the wiping edge from ozone deterioration, snow, sleet, rain, and road debris for longer life
 - Reduces wiping friction for quieter performance
 - Resists contaminants such as fluids, salts, insects and other road debris for streak free visibility
- 2 Dynamic Fit™ technology
 - Optimized beam bending technology adapts to the entire curve of the windshield
- 3 Asymmetrical aerodynamic flexible spoiler
 - Distributes uniform downward force along the entire blade to hold it firmly to the windshield
- 4 Pre-installed weather-shield, connector system
 - Protects arm connection from ice and snow build-up
 - IAM coverage of new jet nozzle applications

Beam Technology

FOCUS™, ICON™, ICON XT™, Evolution™, Clear Advantage™, XpressFIT PRO™, Snow Driver™

Each year, more and more vehicles are equipped with beam blades as original equipment. Beam windshield wipers are designed without joints, hinges, metal or plastic brackets. Instead, these blades have a single beam design and tension memory bending process that provides improved performance over hybrid and conventional windshield wipers.

Hybrid Technology

InSight™ (discontinued)

Another type of blade that comes standard on many vehicles is the hybrid blade. Most of these blades have the framework of a conventional blade, but the aerodynamics of a beam blade. The Bosch Hybrid blade, however, utilizes our patented beam technology to incorporate a better wiping quality.

Conventional Technology

Excel+™ (discontinued), MicroEdge™, DirectConnect™

The most recognized category is called a conventional blade. Conventional blades have a metal framework that holds the rubber in place. Drivers who use conventional blades may opt to upgrade to a beam blade for the winter season to minimize snow and ice build-up that can collect in the frame and affect wiping quality of a conventional windshield wiper.
